USAGE GUIDELINES OF THE ILS LOGO

1. INTRODUCTION

This document shows the benefit from the power and unity of the International Life Saving Federation’s (ILS) logo. It provides the users with the basic tools necessary to reproduce the ILS logo correctly, including colours, sizes and position.

Correct use of the logo will enhance public recognition of the ILS brand and unify its image. It will also show the ILS’s commitment to enforcing the Intellectual Property Rights associated with the logo trademark. This is vital for protecting our sponsorship and marketing programmes. By consistent and considered implementation, the ILS will build a recognisable and admired brand that positively reflects the ILS.

2. HISTORY OF THE LOGO

Organised international lifesaving activities date back to 1878 when the first World Congress was hosted in Marseille, a city in the South of France. A need for an international forum to exchange ideas was soon recognised. This led firstly to the establishment of the Fédération Internationale de Sauvetage Aquatique (FIS) and then later the formation of World Life Saving (WLS). Both organisations were established to promote still-water and surf lifesaving objectives throughout the world.

FIS and WLS merged in 1993 into the International Life Saving Federation (ILS). When the ILS was formed, a Charter was signed between FIS, WLS and ILS and a new logo was designed by Kevin Weldon AM, the ILS Founding President. The ILS logo was a merging of the logos of FIS and WLS. The common aim of bringing both individuals and organisations inside the new “global circle” for lifesaving protection and security, underlies the ILS logo design.

The colours of white, red, yellow and blue represent well known rescue colours in fresh water, surf and ocean waterways. The logo represents the new pinnacle authority for World Water Safety.
3. THE ILS LOGO

A. Total Corporate signature

The combination of the ILS circle logo and the Tag Line (World Water Safety) constitutes the total corporate signature. Wherever the total corporate signature appears, the proportions between the symbol and logo are vitally important and must be adhered to.

B. Typeface

The typeface used in the logo is Palatino Bold. Other typefaces that can be used are Arial Bold. It is most important to use the ILS signature type as shown in the examples using capital and lower case letters to maintain the corporate logo. Under no circumstances is the ILS type or ILS circle to be changed, stretched, enclosed, reversed or any other effect which changes its signature appearance other than shown within these guidelines.

C. The Meaning of the logo

D. Colours

Reproduction methods of the logo will vary depending on its application. The artwork within this guide should cover all applications. The colours are specified a either CMKY Process Colours or Pantone Colours, both colours systems are international standards and should always be maintained.
E. Single and double colour versions

These variations come from the colour palette and can be used on light backgrounds when printable colours are limited and it is not possible to use the full-colour version.

F. Single-colour versions, negative

White on coloured background. The single-colour white version is recommended for use on the vivid coloured backgrounds. It can also be used on photographic and illustrative backgrounds.
G. Single-colour versions, positive

Vivid palette on vivid background. A slightly darker version is recommended for use on a complementary coloured background. Both the foreground and background colours are from our vivid colour palette.

H. Single-colour versions, negative

Vivid palette on vivid background. A slightly lighter version is recommended for use on a complementary coloured background. Both the foreground and background colours are from our vivid colour palette.

I. Single-colour versions, positive

Muted palette. A slightly darker version is recommended for use on a complementary coloured background. Both the foreground and background colours are from the muted colour palette.

J. The Logo: acceptable variations

K. The Tag Line symbol

The Tag Line to be used under the logo is: World Water Safety. The Tag line should be used as frequently as possible wherever space allows.
4. USAGE OF THE LOGO

The ILS logo is a trademarks of the International Life Saving Federation. The use of the ILS Trademarks that might cause confusion in the marketplace, including but not limited to in advertising, on websites, or on software may not be used. The ILS protects the ILS Trademarks on behalf of the entire lifesaving community. In fact, the law obligates trademark owners to police their marks and prevent the use of confusingly similar names by third parties. If you have questions about this policy, please contact the ILS Headquarters.

Except as prohibited by law, the person or entity who is using the ILS Trademark under the terms of these Guidelines ("User") acknowledges that the ILS is the sole and exclusive owner of the ILS Trademarks and agrees that it will do nothing inconsistent with such ownership either during the term of such use or afterwards. Specifically, the User will take no action that will interfere with or diminish the ILS's right in the ILS Trademarks. The User acknowledges that the ILS Trademarks are valid under the applicable law and that the User's utilisation of the ILS Trademarks will not create any right, title or interest in the ILS Trademarks. The User agrees not to apply or assist any third party to register the ILS Trademarks or a confusingly similar designation anywhere in the world. If any application for registration is or has been filed by or on behalf of the User in any country and relates to any mark which, in the reasonable opinion of the ILS, is confusingly similar, deceptive or misleading with respect to, or dilutes or any way damages the ILS Trademark, the User shall, at the ILS's request, abandon all use of such mark, and any registration or application for registration thereof and shall reimburse the ILS for all costs and expenses of any opposition or related legal proceeding, including attorneys' fees, instigation by the ILS or its authorised representative. Upon the written statement that the User is not using the ILS Trademarks in accordance with these Guidelines, within ten (10) days. User shall modify its use to comply with these Guidelines or cease using the ILS Trademarks.

A. Usage that does not require written permission

ILS Regional Branches, ILS Full Members, ILS Associate Members, ILS Corresponding Members may use the ILS logo and Tag Line on their letterhead without requiring written permission as long as the use is in compliance with these guidelines. The logo cannot be used adjacent to a commercial name or logo.

B. Usage on Lifesaving Certificates

ILS Regional Branches, ILS Full Members, ILS Associate Members, ILS Corresponding Members may not use the ILS logo on their certificates, except in the specific situation that such use was approved in writing by the ILS Headquarters and that the appropriate fee was paid.
